

FILE CHARGES TODAY IN EIGHT "METER CASES"

Burgess William G. Weaver said today that approximately eight persons will face charges before a justice of the peace for failure to "pay-up" on parking violations last year.

A check made at the beginning of this year showed about 100 motorists had not paid their "$1" for overtime parking during the prior year. Notices were sent and all but eight of them have "made settlement" for the "red tickets" issued them for overtime parking and other parking violations.

The eight who failed to comply will be charged before a justice of the peace today, Burgess Weaver said, and will have a fine and costs to pay.

In Fairness To Members"

As a "convenience" to motorists and to remind them that parking regulations are made to be obeyed, the town assesses a flat $1 fine for overtime parking and similar violations for which motorists are given red tickets by police.

Weaver said that a check is being made now of those who received red tickets during March, April and May and those who have not yet paid their $1 for those tickets will be sent second notices this month. Failure to pay upon second notice leads to the charge being taken before a justice of the peace.

Weaver said the action is not taken to harass individual drivers, but, in fairness to those who have "joined the $1 club," all violators should pay.

PADDLING CANOE IS FUN IF YOU LIKE TO SWIM

By The Associated Press
Canoeing can be fun, especially if you like swimming. The prospective paddler who keeps that phrase in mind will be saved the shock of experience. For while it's possible for a veteran to stay dry for years while operating a canoe, it's much harder to stay dry while becoming a veteran.

For purely recreational use, the canoe has developed quite a repertoire from the days when accessories were limited to a ukulele. To be sure, most lakeland resorts in the U.S. and Canada still are equipped with old-fashioned canoes as little to be depended upon as the sweet nothings spoken in them of a summer eve.

Aluminum Craft

But science has caught up with the whole business. Tops now for all-around vacation uses are the aluminum craft, as light and portable as canvas craft, but immune to termites, rot and other nuisance. Most of these vessels are unsinkable unless punctured and virtually upset proof.

In addition, they have attachments that allow use of outboard motors and even leeboards and mast for inland sailing, as well as oars for people who want to be sensible on lakes. Cost of a rig like this can run up close to $500.

As a means of transportation, however, and for those who really want to get away from the hurly-burly for a trip down a wilderness waterway, the canoe is first choice just as it has been since the first redskin figured out what to do with birchbark.

Best design for river craft hasn't changed much since then, either. Working canoes are a little wider, a little deeper and a little heavier than the 50-pound bubbles best for play.

Push-Pole Upstream
A 17-footer in this class can carry two persons and supplies for three months, if well chosen. And experts who spurn the use of motors can travel upstream as well as down, although in current of four miles an hour or more the push-pole is mightier than the paddle.

Whatever use the beginner aims at eventually, he'll find some rules basic. Don't beach a canoe by driving it ashore. Even on sand, just take it in until it touches, then step out and life it in. On rocks, of course, don't let it touch. When loading it with people or otherwise, have it floating free. Keep heavy loads—and a canoe will carry terrific loads—low in the craft. If you spill when you don't expect to, hang onto the canoe because it won't sink.

And every time you're tempted to change places afloat, remember how much you like swimming.

Ignore Report That Queen Is Expecting

LONDON (AP) — Buckingham Palace maintained its customary silence today on a New York newspaper report Queen Elizabeth II is expecting her third child. Court sources said so far as they know, the report is unfounded.

The sources commented the Queen has not canceled future engagements. Such cancellations would be an almost sure sign the monarch is expecting.

British newspapers said scant attention to the report in the New York Daily News.

The Daily News in a copyrighted story from London last night quoted "Buckingham Palace sources" as saying Elizabeth is expecting early next year. The news added that "only last week two additional doctors were appointed to the palace staff."

FOUR-POWER PACT DRAFTED

LONDON (AP) — American and British diplomats have worked out a short, four-power treaty that would give West Germany near-independence this year, official sources said today.

The pact has been drafted as a way of giving the Federal Republic powers to control most of its own affairs in case France fails to ratify the project for a European Defense Community. Under present treaties the United States, Britain and France would end their occupation of West Germany only when EDC comes into force.

The latest British-American plan reportedly would grant sovereignty to West Germany in all but military matters in a treaty signed by the United States, Britain, France and the Federal Republic.

The winner was Larry S. Adams, 17, of Connellsville. He will represent Pennsylvania in the 1954 national teen-age Road-e-o contest at Washington, D. C., August 10-14.

HOME SEWERS FIND PLASTIC MODELS HELPFUL

By The Associated Press

It may be somewhat startling to see yourself in plastic, but it's an experience more and more women are having these days.

Home seamstresses who take their dressmaking seriously find indispensable a dress form reproducing the actual lines of their own figures. Here's how it's done.

First the fitter at your local sewing center gives you a tight-fitting cotton knit sheath something like the top of a fencer's suit, which clings to every curve of your body. Then she takes caliper measurements to determine depth and width, and takes your individual figure measurements.

Contour Mold

Measurements completed, she applies malleable thermoplastic material to your shirt-sheathed body in four section—two in front and two in back. This literally follows every contour of your figure, as the operator's expert fingers smooth the plastic material into your exact shape.

The molding takes about a half hour, then the plastic form is cut at shoulders and sides and lifted from your body. It is sent away to be finished—that is, it receives several coats of paint, gets a covering of knit shirting material, is taped at the sides and waistline and mounted on an adjustable stand.

The finished dress form is delivered to your home in a few days, ready to be your dressmaking "stand-in."

Dad Will Appreciate Italian Style Shirt

By The Associated Press

If you want to make a hit with Father, give him an Italian style shirt.

Having set new trends in women's fashions, jewelry, linens and automobiles, Italian designers now are turning their attention to men's wear. A top Italian firm this year is exchanging ideas with a leading American men's wear manufacturer—and the results are sensational.

The new Italian-designed shirts are widely distributed throughout this country, and have a subtly different look. They are done in handsome fabrics and restrained colors, distinguished in cut, comfortable to wear.

ONE BITE TOO MUCH

KANSAS CITY (AP) — For five days Patrolman Carey Majors had been searching for a small dog which had bitten a man.

Then Majors was bitten by a dog. It was the one he was looking for.

There are about 55 million vehicles on U.S. roads — 72 per cent more than in 1940.

These historical quotations are not generally known. So far as I can determine, this is the first time they have appeared in print since that 1741 issue of The American Magazine. Nevertheless, we think the arguments presented are as valid today as they were when Zenger won his freedom 219 years ago.

The American Magazine today, as in 1741, accepts its freedom—and its responsibility to the public.

And then, Zenger's counsel declared: "It is natural, it is a Privilege, I will go farther, it is a RIGHT to which all Freemen are intitled, to complain when they are hurt. They have a Right publicly to remonstrate the faults of their rulers, and to expose them either to their own shame or to the shame of their country."

The following Juniors of the Zion Reformed Church School, Arendtsville, are in attendance at the Junior Camp at Camp Michaux, near Pine Grove, this week: Carolyn Diehl, Judy Kunkel, Linda Price and Cara Lee Frantz.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Fohl and son, Roger, Lynbrook, Long Island, N. Y., spent the weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fohl, Biglerville. Roger will remain for two weeks in Adams and Cumberland Counties. He will spend the first week at Camp Michaux, near Pine Grove Furnace.

Members of the Biglerville Garden Club who are planning to attend the luncheon and play at Allenberry on Wednesday are asked to meet on the corner of Penn St. Biglerville, at 11:45 a.m.

The editorial went on to quote the counsel for Zenger as telling the court that "if the Faults, Mistakes, may even the Vices of a Person of public Character, be private and personal, and don't affect the Peace of the Public, or the Liberty or Property of our Neighbour, it is unmannly and unbecoming, to expose them either by Word or Writing."

"But when a Ruler of a People brings his personal Faults, but much more his Vices into his Administration, and the People find themselves affected by them, either in their Liberties or Properties, That will alter the Case markedly."

2ND SIAMESE TWIN EXPIRES

LONG BEACH, N. Y. (AP)—A baby boy, separated from his undeveloped Siamese twin in an attempt to save his life, died today about 12 hours after the emergency operation.

A hospital spokesman said an autopsy was planned for later in the day to determine the cause of death.

Efforts to save the life of the 8-pound, 15-ounce baby at Long Beach Memorial Hospital were reported by Hospital Administrator William A. Kozma.

The child was attached at the breast bone to a withered, undeveloped twin. Kozma said no vital organ appeared to link the two and only a small blood vessel joined their circulation systems. The undeveloped twin weighed less than a pound, he said.

The twins were born in a normal delivery late Saturday night to Mrs. Julia Seitz, 25, of Cedarhurst, Long Island, Kozma said. About 16 hours later the delicate operation was started.

Kozma said the staff had been able to find only one other similar case in medical history.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES*THE Camera COLUMN

By Dave Garfinkle

Quite often we find ourselves in situations where we'd like to take pictures but don't have proper lighting. We're prone to forget that any light, even that from a candle, is sufficient for picture making, if we expose long enough . . . keep the shutter open long enough for the weak light to act upon the film.

It's easy to take good pictures under ordinary home lighting. Average home lighting conditions require these exposures. Set your lens stop at f16 (this is the speed of the average box camera) and, in dining rooms with medium colored walls, expose for about 20 seconds; in bedrooms with medium colored walls, about 40 seconds; in the living room or kitchen, 20 seconds if walls are medium, 10 seconds if they're light colored.

These exposures are based on one medium speed film, such as Verichrome or Plus X. Cut the time in half if your camera is loaded with high speed panchromatic film such as Super XX. And to get these exposures more accurate for the next time, do a little experimenting. Make one exposure with the times given above, one at half this exposure and one at twice this time. Keep a record of these exposures and compare the final prints.

You can make a portrait with ordinary lights, too, assembling a total of about 200 watts placed about 3 feet from the subject. And for perfect accuracy in exposing, under any kind of light, get an exposure meter from our choice of models. For everything photographic, DAVE'S PHOTO SUPPLY, 52 Chambersburg St., Gettysburg. MODERN QUOTES
REFLECT PACE OF CENTURY

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is a rather pleasant experience to be alone in a hotel at night.

Now who would say a thing like that? Well, as a matter of fact, Willie Sutton, the notorious bank bandit, tossed off the remark while philosophizing on the rewards of a career that has kept him behind prison bars most of his life.

It is one of several thousand quotations collected by Jim Shepherd and Ann Gillis, the sprightly lady who bosses NBC's Who Said That?, the most durable of all TV panel quiz programs.

Addition To Bartlett

Feeling that Bartlett did a good job for his day but that someone ought to also preserve the antic wit and gilded wisdom of the current generation, Shepherd and Miss Gillis are bundling together for book publication the quotations they feel best reflect our times.

Most books of quotations lean too heavily on poets and politicians. Miss Gillis and her co-worker have a more cosmopolitan approach. They see no reason why a really witty observation by a gangster—or a housewife—shouldn't be preserved by posterity. As a result, their volume promises to reflect the real mental life of our recent past more accurately than a formal history.

Here, for example, are a few gems from their collection which should help give posterity some kind of insight on the kind of human beings who dwelt in the middle of the 20th century:

"A committee is a group that keeps minutes and loses hours"—Milton Berle.

"May the Lord bless you real good" — favorite benediction of evangelist Billy Graham.

"Politics in the diversion of trivial men who, when they succeed at it, become important in the eyes of more trivial men" — George Jean Nathan.

On Age

"Age is no matter . . . You can be ravishing at 20, charming at 40, and irresistible"—Mme. Chantal, French performer.

"Behold the turtle: he makes progress only when his neck is out"—James B. Conant, former president of Harvard.

"Washington is a place where half the people are waiting to be discovered—and the other half are afraid they will be" — Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

WILL REVIEW
DEATH FINDINGS OF PATHOLOGIST

CHICAGO (AP)—The evidence on which a coroner's pathologist suggested foul play in the death of Montgomery Ward Thorne will be reviewed today by four other experts.

Some police officials and other pathologists have disagreed with the conclusions of Dr. Harry Leon in the mysterious death of the 20-year-old heir to a nearly two-million-dollar mail order fortune. Dr. Leon attributed death to a combination of alcohol and drugs.

Officials who disagreed with Dr. Leon's report believe Thorne died either of self-administered drugs or of an acute pancreas ailment.

nation of narcotics, sleeping drug and wood alcohol, administered by someone else.

Thorne's body was found on the bed of his apartment after he failed to keep an appointment with Miss Maureen Ragen and she could not reach him by telephone.

Nine hypodermic needle punctures were found in his arms and a needle and syringe were found taped to the ceiling of a clothes closet.

Miss Ragen, 18, who said she and Thorne were to be married in December, was the principal beneficiary in a new will Thorne made nine days before his death. Young Thorne's mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne, named sole legatee in his original will, was cut off with a one-eighth share in the second will, which gave Maureen one half and her mother one fourth.

A court fight is in prospect over the estate between the Ragens and Mrs. Thorne.

Officials who disagreed with Dr.

Leon's report believe Thorne died either of self-administered drugs or of an acute pancreas ailment.

LAMPS ALONG THE WAY
I like to see lighted lamps along a beautiful street or avenue at night. It makes me think of the lamps along life's highway—friends as lamps, books, all nature at night lighted by the stars in the firmament.

I like to think of many a teacher I had in school who was like a lighted lamp to me when I so much needed direction and encouragement. Though many of them have gone to their reward, the lamps they lighted in my mind and heart still brightly burn.

Every important experience is like a lamp lighted for guidance, for it is by experience that we learn most of our good lessons. Every outstanding poet or writer is a lighted lamp for those who would be guided and directed by the light.

Every book in my library I look upon as a lamp. I open it and read, and there is light all about it. I can close my eyes at night before being lost in sleep and the light from that book still shows bright. It may have been the story of a famous person, a novel with a soul to it, or a book like the essays of Montaigne in which the author wrote as he felt, and largely revealed all mankind through the example of himself.

As a boy in a small Midwestern town I used to get a great kick out of walking behind the town's street lamp lighter. As each light was lit that much more of the street would glow. Thanks to Edison, his genius finally succeeded in giving light to the entire world.

If it were not for these lamps along the way, think of how we would stumble, lose our way, and often be filled with fear. The lighted lamp has a silent voice but its leadership is always evident.

There is a feeling of safety with lamps along the way. We can even be one of those lamps ourselves, guiding someone else to his or her safe destination.

THE HAIR-DO
A woman has a weight of care.
But sure am I 'tis truth I state:
Her greatest problem is her hair
And a beauty parlor date.She may neglect the beds to make,
She may not stay the floors to sweep.But you can wager any stake
That hair appointment she will keep.She may, as every husband knows,
Be late when asked with him to dine,
Be late for football games or shows;Told eight o'clock, arrive at nine;
She may some morning over-sleep
And let her household duties wait,
But you can bet on her to keep
On time that hair appointment date.

"My hair's a mess!" she'll say, and add:

"It's time to Marilyn I went.
It's been two weeks since I have had A hair trim and a permanent.
I'm booked today from ten to three."
When ten the town clock starts to chimeIt's ten to one that she will be
To get that hair-do right on time.

OF CONGRESSBy JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—President
Eisenhower says he feels pretty good about the way Congress, almost evenly divided among Democrats and Republicans, has treated his program. The full treatment won't be known until Congress winds up its work, perhaps at the end of this month.Eisenhower wants the voters in the November congressional elections to judge his Republican administration by the kind of program Congress enacts.

Here is the record to date:

Passed by both House and Senate and now law:American participation in the St.
Lawrence seaway; extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act for one year;
a defense pact with South Korea;
creation of an Air Force academy;
extension of major excise tax rates and cutting of others; providing two billion dollars for highway construction; and increasing the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corp.Passed by both houses but with differences which require compromise before final passage which are assumed in some form:A general overhaul of the tax laws and a housing act.The Senate gave Eisenhower most of what he wanted on housing; authority to build 35,000 public units a year for four years; continuing government-subsidized loans on homes; and use of one billion dollars for slum clearance. The House, which had acted ahead of the Senate, wanted no part of the 35,000 public housing units. Whether the House will yield now and go along with the Senate is not known.Passed by one house and therefore not law unless the other also approves:The 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid bill; the farm bill; the wire-tapping bill; and the social security bill.The house has passed the foreign aid bill. The Senate hasn't voted yet. But it seems pretty sure Eisenhower will get a sizable chunk of the 3½ billion dollars he asked.Fine told a newsman he would urge the conference to press congress for a quota system to cut imports of residual oil by about two thirds.Fine is chairman of the conference which is composed of governors of 26 coal producing states.At present there is no limit on imports of the oil, but a duty of five cents a barrel is imposed.Fine said it was essential to "revive the demand for coal" to relieve widespread unemployment in both hard and soft-coal producing areas and to keep the coal industry in good condition for national defense purposes.

BYRNES URGES SHOWDOWN BY ALLIES NOW AT GENEVA TALKS

By JACK BELL

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (P) — Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina today advocated the return of American representatives to the Geneva conference for an Allied showdown on Indochina.

Byrnes, former secretary of state, who is here attending the 46th annual Governors Conference, said in an interview he does not believe the United States can afford to stand aloof and thus risk being blamed before the world for failure to reach a settlement with the Communists.

"We could refuse to participate in any surrender agreement," he said. "But I think our representatives ought to be there to make our viewpoint known. If there is a final breakdown in efforts to get an acceptable agreement, I don't think the British and French should be able to charge it to our absence."

Looks To Nixon

Dulles has hesitated about going back to the conference table because of possible domestic criticism of the results, and the fear of American involvement in enforcing some settlement which would be regarded in this country as a French surrender to the Communists.

There was a possibility that Vice President Nixon, substituting here for President Eisenhower, might give the governors in a closed session later in the day the administration's latest views on the Indochina situation.

The President canceled an appearance because of the death of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower.

To Be On Radio

Nixon is scheduled to speak at the annual state dinner tonight. The speech will be broadcast by radio at 8 p.m., EST. ABC scheduled a "live" broadcast, and NBC and CBS scheduled recordings at 9:30 to 10 p.m., EST.

CRUCIAL WEEK FOR FRENCH AT GENEVA PARLEY

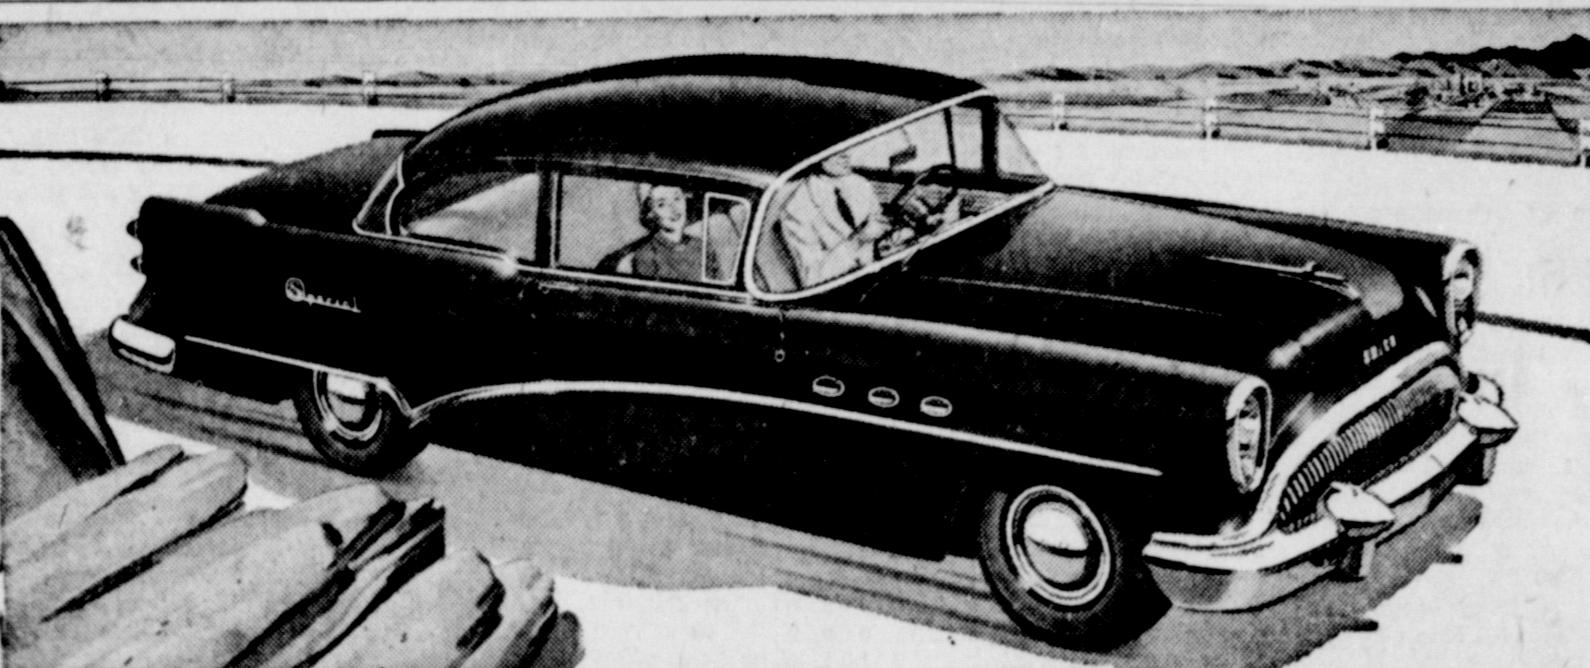

By LYNN HEINZLERING

GENEVA (P) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France entered the crucial week of the Indochina peace negotiations today uncertain of full U.S. backing.

"In the final analysis," he said, "this is a battle of ideas between Americans and those who would destroy us — not a battle between Democrats and Republicans.

"Certainly the bullets of any aggressor will not distinguish those of one political affiliation from those of another. Certainly, amid the hue and cry and emotions of political campaigns, we must realize the common problem and the mutual goal of all Americans."

EX-MODEL WINS OVATIONS AS BULLFIGHTER

JUAREZ, Mexico (P) — In the language of the bull ring, former Broadway model and actress Bette Ford has much courage, bravery and beauty — but her ability is undetermined.

The 23-year-old, curvaceous Miss Ford headed back to Mexico City today for more training to correct a trait that led her under the horns and hoofs of a vicious Mexican bull yesterday and to four narrow escapes.

Bette, from McKeesport, Pa., made her formal bullfighting debut in the Juarez Plaza de Toros, just across the Rio Grande from El Paso, Tex.

Thundering Ovation

She received accolades from the severe audience for her courage, and to a bullfighting fan that's everything.

But because of what Bette called

The United States repeatedly has made it clear it would stand aloof from any "sell-out" to the Communists in Indochina.

Despite Dulles' firm message, however, there was a general feeling in Western circles that either Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith would resume leadership of the American delegation or some other high State Department official would be sent for the fateful negotiations ahead.

Make-Or-Break Week

Mendes-France faced a make-or-break week. He has promised the French National Assembly to achieve a cease-fire in Indochina by July 20 or resign.

The French Premier now has seen all three Communist leaders participating in the negotiations here — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Vietnamese Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong, and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

The Vietnamese foreign minister has clung tenaciously to his demands for withdrawal of all foreign troops from Viet Nam, Vietnamese entry into a coalition government and national elections arranged to give the Communists all the breaks.

FLOOD VICTIMS GIVEN SUPPLIES BY NEIGHBORS

By RICHARD O'REGAN

VIENNA, Austria (P) — Relief supplies for thousands of homeless victims of central Europe's worst flood in centuries poured into stricken Austria and Germany today.

Holland, Sweden, Switzerland and the Saar were the first to offer bedding, food and clothes to thousands of families made homeless by the raging Danube and a dozen tributaries. Their five-day rampage has claimed at least 24 lives on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The aid began to arrive as rescue workers struggled to reach submerged Austrian and German towns where inhabitants were still stranded on rooftops and upper floors. More than 3,000 American soldiers have been taking part in the rescue work.

Smithy Closes Shop, Breaks Link To Past

ROCKFORD, ILL. (P) — Rockford's last blacksmith shop has closed. Gust Djupstrom, who remembers the day when three smiths in his shop shod 86 horses a day, has extinguished the last flame in the forge. The 63-year-old shop will be torn down.

Old-timers who congregated daily at the blacksmith shop to exchange stories of the past recall the time a man unable to find a place to tie his horse took it to a nearby saloon and ordered schooners of beer for himself and the horse.

and Budapest radios said Communist authorities had ordered entire farm communities evacuated and that many hamlets were under water and crops destroyed.

It was not known what the death toll was in the two Iron Curtain lands. Nine deaths were reported last night in Communist East Germany.

In West Germany, skies cleared and flood waters began to subside, but thousands of acres of rich farmland were still under water. Countless houses, bridges and industrial plants were damaged — some beyond repair.

Voter's Request Is A Job For A Swami

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (P) — Mrs. R. O. Fortenberry, Mecklenburg Board of Elections clerk, reports a man telephoned her to inquire "Am I registered?"

"I'll see," she replied. "Where do you live?"

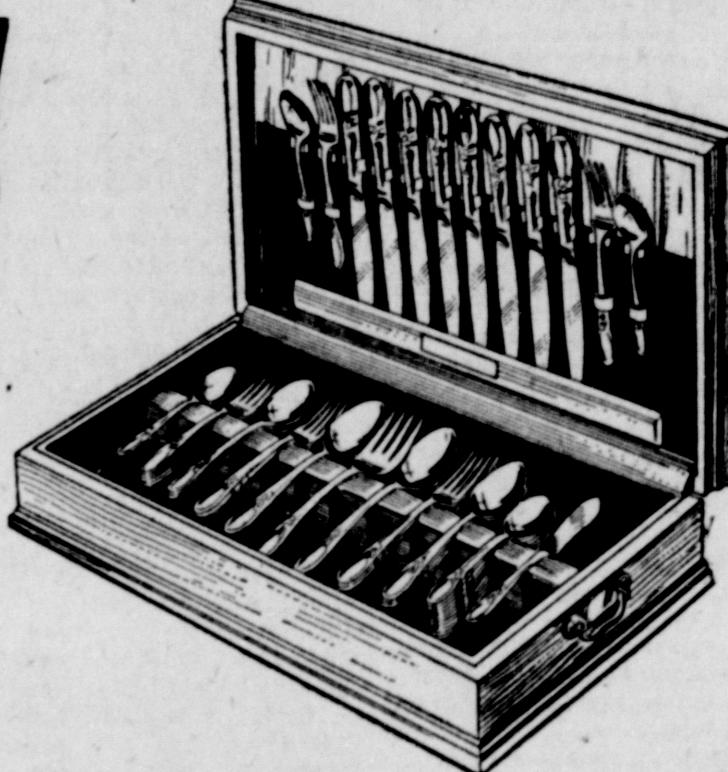

The man gave an address, and Mrs. Fortenberry selected the appropriate registration book.

"What is your name?" she asked him.

"That," said the man, "is information I wish to withhold."

Rooms Six for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost.

Bedrooms Three
Closets Seven
Cubage 15,600 ft.
The inviting front door opens on a small hallway with open archways leading to the living room on the left, and to the den or dining room on the right. Two windows in the right wall plus the picture window in the front wall provide abundant light and ventilation for the 18' x 13' 4" living room.

Centered in the left wall, the fireplace is another very attractive feature of the living room. If this room is to do double duty as a dining room, place your dining set near to the long unbroken back wall. This location also will be more conveniently near to the kitchen than any other place in the living room.

Den-Dining Room

Measuring 11 feet square, the den or dining room receives light and ventilation through one window in the right wall and another in the front wall. If this room is to be used as the dining room, build china cabinets into the back corners; if it is used as den the right wall could easily accommodate built-in bookshelves. This room also could be used as a guest room, if you so desire.

Instead of a back door "The Aron" boasts a side door; this opens into a small hallway containing a general purpose storage closet and leading to the 12' x 11' kitchen. While carefully planned so that every inch of space is used to make kitchen tasks pleasant and easy, the kitchen still contains space for a good-sized breakfast nook.

Working counters are arranged along the left, back and right walls of the room with the stove at the left end of the array and the refrigerator at the right end. The sink is centered under the double windows in the back wall. Another window in the right wall provides extra light and ventilation for the breakfast nook.

You'll find plenty of storage space for your brooms, mops, dusting cloths etc. in the broom closet in the front kitchen wall. The door in the left kitchen wall opens on the hallway connecting with the lavatory and the first floor bedroom.

Amply, lighted and ventilated by one window in the back wall, the lavatory contains a special built-in shower compartment. The large linen closet opens on the connecting hallway between the lavatory and the bedroom where it is conveniently near for changing linens or towels.

Cross ventilation and good lighting are assured in the 11-foot-square bedroom for there is one window in the back wall and another in the left wall. The large closet in the right wall can easily accommodate the storage needs of two people if this room is shared.

Second Floor

On the second floor of "The Aron" there are two more bedrooms, an abundance of storage space and a bathroom. Because the first floor of this house contains complete living facilities, you do not have to have the second floor completed at the time of original construction but can leave it until you need the extra space.

With measurements of 14' x 12', the left bedroom receives good lighting and cross ventilation through one window in the back wall, one in the left and another in the front. There is an unusually large closet in the right wall and another in the left wall as well as storage drawers in the front wall.

The second story linen closet opens in the central hallway across from the all-modern bath. One window provides sufficient light and ventilation for the bath which contains both a tub and a shower.

There are three windows in the right bedroom also, which is 14' x 11' in dimensions. This room has one large storage area in the right wall and storage drawers in the front wall.

Camera News

Pin-up poses are enhanced by smooth curves and the graceful lines of arms and limbs; they are marred by harsh angles and opposing lines. Don't have the subject's arms or legs bend to form right angles to the camera.

Minimize Bulges

To avoid the appearance of added body bulk, don't let the elbow touch the body at the waistline. Arms, too, should cross the body above or below the waist, for a slimmer silhouette.

Support weight on the arm or leg farthest from the camera. To slenderize the hips, they might be angled away from the camera. Hands can express grace by the way the fingers curl. An object should be held, not clutched. Their worst angle is with the flat back of the flat palm facing the camera. A hand shouldn't disappear in the sand or a beach blanket lest it look amputated.

A bathing beauty's expression is an important part of the picture and must be carried out by both face and body. A gay look and a tense body are not a convincing combination. This is apt to happen if awkward poses are held too long. It might be better to relax and redo the pose several times in order to catch a spontaneous combination.

Composition—aided by natural framing devices: arches, columns at sides, windows, branches and leaves at top.

Backgrounds—that's the stuff you don't see when you snap the picture but it juts out of people's heads in the print. Look twice—once at the scene, then at the background. If it's bad, shift the angle.

Use People

Use people—and get personal—it's your vacation, for static scenery you can buy a postcard. But posing shouldn't be obvious and avoid having people just looking at the camera. They can look at the view, road signs, study maps or be engaged in some natural action.

Emotions Excited

My emotions, translated into frenzied workings of the jaw, are indescribable when, because of circumstances beyond my control, I must watch what the trade calls "agony shows" in which brave, suffering and needy human beings knot their brows and perspire trying to answer such questions as "Who was the first President?" for $1.50.

I hear American dentists have already accused the channels as despilers of teeth. Maybe not so much lately because they are campaigning busily against lollipops—at least, some of them around these parts protested when it was planned to give away free lollipops to divert children from the needle when they got their anti-polio shots.

TV Versus Sugar

I know MY dentist, when my mouth is stuffed with equipment is much more interested in asking me questions about my sugar consumption than my viewing habits.

British television, like British radio and British films, is probably different from ours. But if television is injuring anybody's teeth in this country, I'd say it was the adult's. And I'd also say the injury wouldn't come from clenching teeth in rapt concentration but from grinding them in sheer, frustrated anguish.

Agonizing TV

I sometimes think I'll be down to the gum line after another year of stoically paying the price for entertainment by suffering some types of commercials.

I also suffer serious dental trauma from the smooth and smiling young people who go into ecstasies when they take a sip of instant coffee, lick a spoonful of ice cream, quaff a glass of beer

Prepare Differently

Wide differences are shown in methods of using hair preparations successfully. Some women use them before or after shampooings, and some between washings.

Recommended by the institute is a pre-shampoo treatment with a pure petrolatum hair tonic and a hot oil method which calls for steaming the head with hot, wrung-out towels.

The national survey, which took six months to complete, reports many women make the mistake of dousing the head with oil. Tonics should be used sparingly, just enough to lubricate the dry ends and give the hair gloss.

Customs in hair care vary with age, dwelling and geography, the survey shows. Home grooming is more popular with Westerners and Southerners, farm women and women over 30 years old.

City-dwellers, young women and Easterners tend more toward professional hair care.

More Food Than Fluid In Nutritious Watermelons

Though watermelons may seem to consist chiefly of a delicious juice, they actually have a lower water content than asparagus, celery, cucumbers and lettuce. Moreover they stand drouth better than other vine crops.

In addition they are rich in minerals and vitamins and have a high calorie count, so if you are reducing, make them part of the meal, and not merely the dessert. Even in northern states, where they get a late start in growing, there are varieties of watermelons which can be ripened before frost.

Watermelons are usually grown in hills, which may be as close together as three feet each way in small gardens. Such close spacing is likely to reduce the size of the fruits, and more room should be given where possible. Seeds should be sown in warm soil, and if the nights continue cold it may be desirable to protect the young plants at first with waxed paper tents.

Heavy fertilizing pays well with this crop. As much as a pint of balanced plant food may be mixed well with the soil beneath each hill before the seed is planted. Or use a shovel of well rotted manure, and half a pint of plant food. Sow ten seeds to the hill and thin out to the two strongest plants that develop.

Do not harvest watermelons until they are ripe, as they improve in flavor very little after they are picked. It takes some study to determine when a melon is ripe, without "plugging" it. Thumping is one test, ripe melons giving a dead flat sound, green ones a ringing sound. The color of the spot where the melon lies on the ground usually changes from greenish white to yellow as it ripens.

The same insects and diseases that attack muskmelons and cucumbers may attack the watermelon. If your garden has grown watermelons at any time during the last five years, a wilt resistant variety should be used.

Count 2, 4 or 5 seconds.

All data, names and dates should be written down in a pocket notebook. Don't trust to memory. Keep souvenirs, menus, local literature.

Should film be processed en route or later, back home? It's a matter of time. If you stay permits it, test the local processing first with one or two on your exposures and camera behavior.

As soon as possible after you're back, get your prints into an album while enthusiasm is still at a peak. Variety again is a good idea. Choose the best shots and enlarge them for good display.

On The House

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Air filters have become very important items of equipment in modern homes. They are more important than window screens in houses that are air conditioned. They save a lot on housework and add a lot of comfort in homes with circulating warm air heat. They strain dust, dirt and pollen out of the air, but they have to be renewed for maximum efficiency.

Replacing an air filter in a warm air heating plant or air conditioner is about as simple as putting a new bag in the garbage can. And most filters are cheap, costing about the same as a carton of cigarettes. The reason you have to change them is that less and less air will pass through them as they trap dust and dirt. You can't get your money's worth in heat or in cooling with a choked up filter.

Disposable Filters

So this is a good season to put in new filters. The smart man has his heating plant cleaned and readied for fall as soon as the heating season has ended. This minimizes corrosion from accumulated soot. And with several million room air conditioners now in homes by trained hawks was known use, it's wise to keep them at top in China by 2,000 B.C.

ATOMIC PLANTS BACK TO NORMAL AFTER STRIKE

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — Operations have returned to normal at the atomic energy plant near here today with striking workers back on the job.

A strike threatening production of atomic and hydrogen bombs was called off Saturday when members of Local 380, CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers, voted to return to work immediately, reversing a previous decision to continue the walkout.

The Paducah employees followed the example of strikers at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., plant who voted Friday night to end their walkout.

4,500 Were Involved

One thousand workers at Paducah and 3,500 at Oak Ridge were involved in the strike.

A plan for settling the walkout was worked out in Washington by Secretary of Labor Mitchell and CIO President Walter Reuther. It calls for a government review of health, housing and community problems of all the nation's atomic workers and a study to ington, D. C., where she received a bachelor of arts degree in literature from George Washington University.

PRESIDENT TO ATTEND RITES AT STATE COLLEGE

Married In 1927

On Oct. 12, 1927, she married Milton Eisenhower. The couple lived in Washington for many years while he served in a number of government positions before returning to Kansas State as its president.

The most difficult part of being a college president's wife is trying to work in a normal family life and still be ready at a minute's notice for any emergency connected with official duties," Mrs. Eisenhower said when the family moved to State College.

Mrs. Eisenhower, wife of the president of Pennsylvania State University, died Saturday at her home on the Penn State campus. She was 49.

University officials said that death was due to blood clot. She had been recovering from virus pneumonia.

The funeral services will be held in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church at State College.

President Eisenhower cancelled plans to address the annual conference of governors at Bolton Landing, N. Y., today. Vice President Nixon will speak to the state executives instead.

The Rev. Jones B. Shannon, rector of St. Andrew's and the Rev. Luther H. Harshberger, university chaplain, are to conduct the brief church service for Mrs. Eisenhower.

Burial Near School

Burial is to be in the Centre County Memorial Park five miles east of the university her husband had headed since 1950.

With Mrs. Eisenhower when she died were Dr. Eisenhower and her son Milton S. Jr., 23, and army Lieutenant. A daughter, Ruth, 15, was at a camp in Rock ledge, Vt. Helen Eakin Eisenhower was born in Manhattan, Kas., Aug. 14, 1904. She attended Kansas State College there.

It was while at the college she met her husband, then a graduate student.

Later her family moved to Wash-

SUSPECT WILL BE QUESTIONED IN GIRL'S DEATH

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami detectives returned Walter Lee Yow here from Georgia for further questioning today about his story that he saw 7-year-old Judith Ann Roberts assaulted and murdered last Wednesday.

Detectives Charles Sapp and J. Whitman said the 44-year-old former convict's story was vague and full of discrepancies but consistent enough to warrant bringing him back. He was arrested in Marietta, Ga., Saturday for vagrancy.

Stories Vary

Yow told officers he was with the man who stole Judith Ann, daughter of a Baltimore lawyer and labor leader, from her bed in the home of her grandparents.

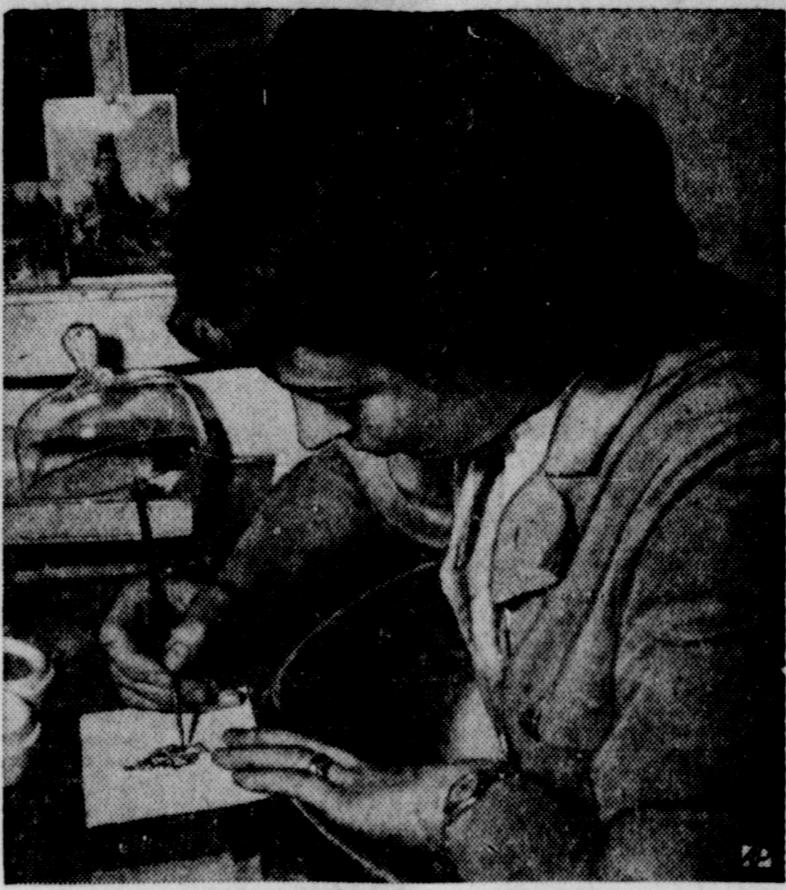

Sapp said Yow related at first that he saw his companion assault the child, then smash her head with a rock, but later insisted he waited in the car some distance away while the other man took the girl into a wooded area off fashion- able Bayshore Drive.

Then Yow declared he made up God-given talent."

His speech highlighted a banquet closing the fraternity's national convention Saturday.

The story to get out of Georgia and back to Florida because he had been told that Georgia officers would "bash in his head" if he fell into their hands.

Georgia officers said the paunchy Yow, who described himself as a Cherokee Indian, had a
